

Making a Report through the University

You may choose to report your experience as a violation of University policy. This can be an option if the person who committed the act of abuse, harassment or violence against you is also a member of the university community.

- Some behaviors are a violation of our Title IX policy and some behaviors are violations of our employee conduct or student conduct policies which prohibit certain behaviors.
- Students can bring forward a complaint that will be investigated based on which policy the behavior violates
- During an investigation, students can access supportive measures to assist them in maintaining their status as a student
- For more information regarding the formal Title IX process and other means for resolution please see our Title IX website.

To speak with a confidential advocate about your options, call 856-225-2326